

Vancouver Barracks Military Association's World War Educational Project 1917-1918

VBMA's 1917 Army Ambulance project will be used for parades and interpretive events such as school programs and displays of uniforms and artifacts. Few vehicles from this time period survive today.

An M1917 Army Ambulance will be constructed on an original Model T chassis. The ambulance body will be a reconstruction as no original bodies exist today.

A basic wood frame and panel ambulance body can transport three stretchers or four ambulatory patients. Please donate to the project and follow the project on <http://vbma.us>
